THE WORLD STARTS FUND TO HELP ELECTED MEMBERS OF ASSEMBLY PROVE LEGAL RIGHTS TO SEATS

The World to-day starts a "Representative Government Fund." This fund is to help defray the legal expenses of the five Socialist Assemblymen in their effort to prove their right to the seats in the New York Assembly to which they were duly elected, and from which they were excluded by the action of the Assembly.

The World is informed that though Morris Hillquit and his associates are giving their legal services free, the legitimate expenses of the endeavor to seat these five men and to re-enfranchise their constituents will amount to not less han $25,000.

The New York Bar Association has most commendably appointed s committee to go to Albany "to safeguard and protect the principles of representative government which are involved in the proceedings now pending." But The World believes that, apart from the eminent representatives of the Bar Association, the five Assemblymen are entitled to the best and most thorough defense of their right to their seats in the Assembly that money, legitimately expended, can enable them to procure.

The World furthermore believes that there are among its readers many thousands of good Americans, entirely unsympathetic with the doctrines of Socialism, who yet will deem it a privilege to register their protest against the un-American action of th Assembly by sending their personal contributions to The World's "Representative Government Fund." One dollar will be quite as welcome as one hundred, for The World hopes that this fund will express the convictions of the community through numbers rather than through amounts.

In order to keep perfectly clear he fact that this fund is being raised to defend these five Assemblymen's rights as American citizens and not to support their doctrines as members of the Socialist Party. The World will accept contributions only from those who specify that they are not members of he Socialist Party.

The World takes pleasure in heading the list of contributions with $250. All con ributions should be addressed "World's Represcritative Goyernment Fund," and will be acknowledged in the columns of The World.
